

Starstruck on the slopes.

It's that time of year again when the jet set crowd hits the slopes (and the beach). We've rounded up a few celebrities who know how to make the most of the winter months with their sublime seasonal getaways—and they have the Instagram photos to prove it. Are they truly like us? Let's take a look.

Another celebrity skier, Reese's slope of choice is in the Gem State. The Election star shared photos of her trip to the area with her children and husband Jim Toth this time last year, so one can only imagine they're considering jetting back shortly. Sun Valley is actually the first destination ski resort in the country, featuring premiere slopes at Bald Mountain and a bevy of other trails where beautiful, untamed wilderness allows for ideal backpacking, angling, and more. Notable stays include boutique The Knob Hill Inn and the vintage-chic Lift Tower Lodge.
